

A perfect place. No, we are not proclaiming that we have a perfect place, but it is a very good place that can create perfect encounters with God. Quiet times for contemplation, fun times for exertion, and prayerful times for completion of what your whole person needs.

Creating the right combination.

You need a comfortable place to sleep and clean up, a clean, appetizing place to refuel, a dedicated place for learning, an expansive space for exhausting your pent up energies, a tuned place for worship and response to spiritual callings and a peaceful place for prayer and reflection.

The Indiana Camp and Conference Center provides all of these resources to you and your group to have the best experience while you are with us. Won't you contact us today to schedule your time to restore the joy in your group event?
